Award-winning movie producer and humanitarian, Sir Robert Marcarelli is an extraordinary man with an incredible journey from Hollywood glitter to the Frontline of global issues. His travels and work in humanitarian causes have taken him from California wildfires to the depths of the Tsunami aftermath, through the dark haze of human trafficking - and most recently, the border of the Genocide in Darfur, Sudan where his efforts as one individual responding to an emergency has ensured the survival of thousands. Please join me in this exciting and life transforming conversation of glamour and adventure.
